The Mozilla Foundation is a non-profit organization that promotes openness, innovation and participation on the Internet. We promote the values of an open Internet to the broader world. Mozilla is best known for the Firefox browser, but we advance our mission through other software projects, grants and engagement and education efforts such as Mozilla Webmaker.

The Cochin University of Science and Technology came into being in 1971 in answer to a concerted campaign for quality postgraduate education in the state of Kerala. In February 1986, University of Cochin was reorganized into Cochin University of Science and Technology (CUSAT) with the objective "the promotion of graduate and post-graduate studies and advanced research in applied science, technology, industry, commerce, management and social science."

PARTNERS

Maker Party: Kochi 2014 is an attempt to map and empower people who share a passion to innovate, evolve and change the learning landscape.

The event has a simple format like a science fair, where facilitators are sharing cutting edge technologies, teach something new in a engaging way and motivate them to innovate.
